Beware of the Incoming Trains

Simply painted at a reasonable price!

The NOCH Figures “Shunting Staff” are now also available in H0 gauge as hobby figures. The set contains model figures in 1:87 scale. Shunting staff wear orange-coloured work clothes with fluorescent strips so that they are not overlooked when working by the tracks and are also visible in the dark. In addition, all workers wear a hard hat for protection. Workers around the tracks should not be missing from your model railway layout. There is always a lot of activity at the train station and that’s why the shunting staff are now available for all fans of the hobby.

The Hobby figures are easier to paint than the "normal" NOCH figures. Therefore, the hobby figures are the first choice when it comes to populate squares, villages, cities, platforms, parks, fields, wagons and much more at a reasonable price.

You can recognize the particularly inexpensive NOCH Hobby figures by the red packaging.
